FOREWORD

The materials in this third edition of the How to Research Constitutional, Legislative, and Statutory History in Hawaii manual are quite similar to the first edition. It was felt that changing the use of 1983 and 1984 Legislative Journal materials was not necessary. Unfortunately, for those who are computer-minded, it will be some time before the current Legislative Journals are computer searchable and even longer for the older Journals. For that reason few of the samples were changed.

References to the legislative computer system were deleted and changed to the capitol website. The most often used Session Law references found in statutory source notes and the word changes made in the statute, otherwise known as "shortcuts" were updated. Finally, a new chapter was added to discuss the repeal and reenactment process and how to find temporary session law materials. A copy of this manual, and any updates, may be found online at www.state.hi.us/lrb/reports.

The Bureau wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Richard F. Kahle, Jr., the author of the manual, for his tireless efforts and his expertise in preparing this update.

Chapter 1

INTRODUCTION

The reader may ask why is constitutional, legislative, or statutory research important. For many years the Hawaii Supreme Court said it would look at legislative history only when statutory language was not clear. The court said that “[t]he general rule is that if the words used in a constitutional [or statutory] provision . . . are clear and unambiguous, they are to be construed as they are written.”¹ But what might have been clear to someone reading a statute, in many cases was not clear to the court, and the court did in fact consult legislative history. Finally, in Kaiama v. Aguilar, 67 H. 549, 554, 696 P.2d 839 (1985), the court said:

But we have rejected an approach to statutory [interpretation] which limits us to the words of a statute, no matter how clear they may appear upon perfunctory review. For we recognize “our primary duty [in interpreting statutes] is to ascertain the intention of the legislature and to implement that intention to the fullest degree,”; and where “there is . . . material evidencing legislative purpose and intent, there is no reason for a court to seek refuge in ‘strict construction,’ ‘plain meaning,’ or ‘the popular sense of the words.’” (citations omitted) (See also Sato v. Tawata, 79 H. 14, 17, 897 P.2d 941 (1995); Keliipuleole v. Wilson, 85 H. 217, 221, 941 P.2d 300 (1997); In re Water Use Permit Applications, 94 H. 97, 144, 9 P.3d 512 (2000).)

Legislative research means the research of legislative histories to sections found in the Hawaii Revised Statutes, Acts found in the Session Laws of Hawaii, bills introduced into the legislature but not passed, and resolutions. Statutory research includes legislative research and in addition is the tracking of the history of a statute from the date a bill proposing the statute was introduced in the legislature, through its various amendments, to its present wording. In order to perform such research, there must be an understanding of Hawaii’s legislative system.

How a Bill Becomes Law

The state constitution gives the legislature the power to make laws. Hawaii’s legislature is composed of two houses--a Senate with twenty-five members and a House of Representatives with fifty-one members. When these two houses work together over a period of sixty legislative days, they produce laws and adopt resolutions asking agencies to perform certain tasks and to report back to the legislature on the work done at some future time, usually the next, legislative session.

¹*Hawaii Government Employees' Association v. County of Maui*, 59 Haw. 65, 76 (1978), quoting Spears v. Honda, 51 Haw. 1, 6 reh. denied 51 Haw. 103 (1968). See also State v. Palama, 62 Haw. 159, 161-162 (1980); In re Palk, 56 Haw. 492, 497 (1975); and Twentieth Century Furniture, Inc. v. Labor and Industrial Relations Appeal Board, 52 Haw. 577, 579-580 (1971).

The first step in producing a law is the drafting of a bill. Bills are prepared by the executive branch of government, the various counties, the Senate and House majority and minority research and attorney's offices, the Legislative Reference Bureau, various lobbying organizations, and others. A bill contains the idea for a law and may be as short as one page or be 200 plus pages in length. Once drafted it is introduced by a legislator. It takes three readings, on separate days in each house, with a forty-eight-hour layover period before the third or final reading before a bill is passed by the legislature.

The Hawaii legislative system relies on a committee process. That is, the respective subject matter standing committees of each house are the entities that do the detail work in considering the fate of a bill. The number of standing committees in each house will vary depending on each house's organization. Bills are assigned by subject to one or more appropriate committees by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The committees will hold hearings, take public input, ask questions on matters before them, and make their decisions. The result of their work, particularly if favorable action is recommended, is evidenced by a standing committee report issued by the committee.

This committee report is a formal recommendation by a committee to the presiding officer of the respective houses as to what should be done on a particular matter, generally a piece of legislation or a resolution, before a house. This recommendation is adopted by a formal vote of a majority of the members of a house.

Given three readings in both the Senate and the House of Representatives, by a majority vote of the members to which each house is entitled on the same bill, the bill is then considered passed by the legislature.

If one house amends a bill and the originating house disagrees with the second house's amendment, the bill may be sent to a conference committee. A conference committee is composed of members of both houses, appointed by the respective presiding officer, who work out the differences between the houses. Once the differences have been resolved, then the bill is reported out of conference by a conference committee report for final reading after a forty-eight-hour layover in each house. The conference committee reports for both houses and the drafts of the bill are identical.

A bill which has passed the legislature is then transmitted to the governor for action. If a bill fails to pass in a legislative session in an odd-numbered year, it will carry over to a session in an even-numbered year. This has been true since 1969. Before 1969, bills did not carry over to a second year.

If a bill is transmitted to the governor ten or more days before the end of session, the governor has ten days to act on it. If a bill is transmitted less than ten working days before the adjournment of session, the governor has forty-five working days to consider the bill. If the governor in considering the bill neither signs it nor vetoes it, the bill becomes law within ten or forty-five days, as the case may be.

Other than for appropriations to the legislative or judicial branches of government, the governor may item veto or reduce sums of money in appropriation bills. All other bills must be vetoed as a whole. This includes bills providing for legislative and judicial appropriations.

If the governor is going to veto a bill, the governor must transmit a veto message to the legislature, within ten days after receiving the bill, if received ten days or more before the end of session, and ten days before the forty-five-day consideration period runs if the governor received the bill less than ten days before the end of session.

The legislature can override the governor's veto by a two-thirds vote of each house. For a bill subject to the forty-five-day consideration period, the legislature can also amend the bill to meet the governor's objections, pass it on one reading and present it again to the governor, who must sign it for the bill to become law. The legislature does this in special session on the forty-fifth day following the end of the regular session as provided in the state constitution.²

Following a Bill During the Legislative Session

In order to follow a bill through the legislative process, the Hawaii Legislature operates the Hawaii State Legislature Website accessible through the Internet (<http://www.captiol.hawaii.gov>). This system provides the text and status of a bill and the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Individuals may also use the Legislative Reference Bureau's Public Access Room and the Bureau's library, both in the State Capitol to request information concerning a particular bill. Reviewing the status (committee referrals and number of reading) of a bill enables the researcher to determine the bill's progress through the legislative process. An example of the status of House Bill No. 599 introduced in 2001 follows.

If the number of a particular bill is unknown but the researcher is interested in a bill on nonprofit corporations, a search could be made for all bills concerning nonprofit corporations and House Bill No. 599 would be found. The information provided consists of all major actions and votes that occur on a bill from the day it is introduced to the day the governor signs the bill into law. Each reading, legislative action, and vote is shown. Each committee report such as Stand. Com. Rep. No. 540, which means House Standing Committee Report No. 540, is also shown. Copies of the committee reports and drafts to the bill could have been obtained from the House or Senate print shops during the legislative session. In addition, a copy of the bill can be printed from the Internet source. After a two-year legislature is over copies of bills may be reviewed in the Legislative Reference Bureau Library or the Archives.

INTRODUCTION

The Legislative Reference Bureau's Public Access Room is open year-round to assist researchers. The Legislative Reference Bureau Library, the Supreme Court Law Library, the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism's Business Resource Center, and the Municipal Reference and Records Center will also assist a researcher. All, have a wide range of resources available for conducting research in greater breadth as well as depth.

HOW A BILL BECOMES LAW IN HAWAII

Flow chart illustrates how a bill originating in the House of Representatives becomes law. The same general procedure is followed in the case of Senate bills—the bill being acted upon first in the Senate and then in the House of Representatives.

Any bill pending at the final adjournment of a regular session in an odd-numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session.

¹/Bill may be reconsidered on the same or succeeding day of session. Bill may be recommitted or re-referred at any time. Bill may be recalled twenty days after having been referred to a committee by one-third vote.

²/Other than appropriations for legislature or judicial branches which must be vetoed as a whole.

Chapter 2

RESEARCHING THE LEGISLATIVE HISTORY OF STATUTES

Researching past legislative history is the primary focus of this chapter. In performing this research a person must be able to go to the Hawaii Revised Statutes and be able to find the amendatory acts to a particular section so that the history of these acts--committee reports, floor speeches, and discussions concerning the passage of a bill which became an act--may be read to determine if they assist the researcher in understanding the intent of the legislature in passing such an act. Section 321-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is set forth below with the text displayed in abbreviated fashion. The source note at the end of the section set forth in brackets, however, is set forth as of 1985. A source note at the end of a statute gives the history of a section in chronological fashion, setting forth the Act which first enacted the statute, each amending act, and each compilation in which the statute may be found. In performing legislative research, understanding and reading the source note following each section in the Hawaii Revised Statutes are the keys to such research.

A copy of the list of Abbreviations and Symbols found in the front of each volume of the Hawaii Revised Statutes is in Appendix A. This list may be used to decipher the source notes and other abbreviations found in the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The source note for section 321-11 is translated underneath the section.

§321-11 Subjects of health regulations, generally. The department of health may make such regulations as it deems necessary for the public health and safety respecting:

- (25) Ambulances and ambulance equipment;

The department may require any certificates, permits, or licenses as it may deem necessary to adequately to regulate the conditions or businesses referred to in this section. If legislative history research on section 321-11 is being performed, each item set forth in the source note might have to be checked. In practice, however, there are a number of entries that might not be checked. For example, section 321-11 has been compiled six times: in the Penal Code of 1869, the Revised Laws of Hawaii (RLH) of 1925, 1935, 1945, 1955, and the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Each compilation shows the statute as it has been amended up to the date of the compilation. For example, RL 1955, section 46-13 is found in the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1955 and will reflect section 2015 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1945 as amended by the Session Laws of 1945, 1949, 1951, and 1953. In researching the legislative history of section 321-11, none of the compilations may have to be reviewed. On the other hand, each act may have to be reviewed to determine what amendment was made and what the legislature said about the amendment in committee reports and on the floor of the legislature in speeches.

If one knows how a prior compilation read and how the present compilation differs, the legislative history search may be narrowed to the ten-year period between compilations. It should be kept in mind that the Hawaii Revised Statutes is actually in its fourth compilation. That is, it was first published in 1968 containing all statutes and amendments through 1967. It was replaced in 1976 and the main or black volumes then contained all amendments to the Hawaii Revised Statutes from 1968 through 1975. The 1985 Replacement volumes of the Hawaii Revised Statutes contain all amendments to the Hawaii Revised Statutes made during the period from 1976 through 1985. The 1993 Replacement volumes contain all amendments to the Hawaii Revised Statutes made during the period from 1986 through 1993.

Walking Through an Actual Search

In order to assist in understanding the process involved in researching legislative history, the following discussion leads the reader through an actual search. Section 92-7, Hawaii Revised Statutes, from the 1984 Supplement to the Hawaii Revised Statutes reads as follows:

§92-7 Notice. ***

(b) The board shall file the notice in the office of the lieutenant governor or the appropriate county clerk's office, and in the board's office for public inspection, at least six calendar days before the meeting. The notice shall also be posted at the site of the meeting whenever feasible. No board shall change the agenda, once filed, by adding items thereto without a two-thirds recorded vote of all members to which the board is entitled; provided that no item shall be added to the agenda if it is of reasonably major importance and action thereon by the board will affect a significant number of persons.

[am L 1984, c 271, §1]

Amendment Note

L 1984 amended subsection (b) changing notice from "seventy-two hours" to "six calendar days".

Note that asterisks follow the title to section 92-7 and follow the text before the source note. These asterisks indicate that the main volume of the Hawaii Revised Statutes must be consulted for the missing language. When the Revisor of Statutes prepares a Supplement, popularly known as the Pocket Part, the Revisor omits unamended material, i.e., in this instance, subsections (a) and (c).

At this point it cannot be stressed enough that the Hawaii Revised Statutes should be read from the back to the front. Always look at the Pocket Part first to determine if a section has been amended, or if the Revisor has inserted a note indicating some legislative action on that section. If a person's title changes, for example, an amendment changing the title of the Director of Regulatory Agencies to the Director of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, the Revisor will insert a note in the Pocket Part showing the title change and the act making the change but will not set out the section. This practice, adopted as a matter of cost savings, is one of which the researcher must be aware.

At the bottom of section 92-7, the source note is set forth in brackets. The source note only shows the 1984 legislative action. For the rest of the source note the main volume of the Hawaii Revised Statutes would have to be consulted. From the discussion interpreting the source note for section 321-11, it is clear that L 1984, c 271, §1 means Session Laws of Hawaii 1984, Act 271, section 1. In order to find the legislative history of Act 271 the number of the bill which became Act 271 upon the governor's signature must be found. This number may be found in the Session Laws of Hawaii 1984.

ACT 271

H.B. No. 1311

A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Agency Meetings and Records.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Hawaii:

SECTION 1. Section 92-7, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsection (b) to read as follows:

“(b) The board shall file the notice in the office of the lieutenant governor or the appropriate county clerk's office, and in the board's office for public inspection, at least [seventy-two hours] six calendar days before the meeting. The notice shall also be posted at the site of the meeting whenever feasible. No board shall change the agenda, once filed, by adding items thereto without a two-thirds recorded vote of all members to which the board is entitled; provided that no item shall be added to the agenda [in the manner provided herein] if it is of reasonably major importance and action thereon by the board will affect a significant number of persons.”

SECTION 2. Statutory material to be repealed is bracketed. New material is underscored.

SECTION 3. This Act shall take effect upon its approval.

(Approved June 7, 1984.)

To the right-hand side of Act 271, H.B. No. 1311 appears. This is the bill which the governor signed to become Act 271. In earlier Session Laws the bill number might appear at the end of the Act (see Appendix B). Armed with the bill number, the researcher must consult the House and Senate Journals for the appropriate year. In the example being used, four Journals must be reviewed; that is, the House and Senate Journals for 1983 and 1984 because House Bill No. 1311 was introduced in 1983 and was carried over and passed in 1984. There are two ways to tell the bill was introduced in 1983. First, the Journals for 1984 would be incomplete and would indicate that the bill was carried over from 1983. Second, bills which are introduced in the second year of a legislature (in even-numbered years) are indicated by placing a dash and the year after the bill number. Illustratively, if House Bill No. 1311 read 1311-84, it would have been introduced in 1984.

Since this is a House bill, it is best to look first in the House Journal for 1983, although no particular order of checking Senate and House Journals need be followed. At the back of the Journal is a table called the History of House Bills (see page 32). This table lists the page numbers in the Journal at which the action taken on the bill by the House of Representatives is set forth. By checking each of the pages listed it can be determined what happened to House Bill No. 1311. The first page listed shows the bill was introduced on the 20th day, who introduced the bill, and its referral to the Committee on Legislative Management which is responsible for printing the bill (see pages 22 and 23). After printing, the bill is referred to committee. House Bill No. 1311 was referred to the Committee on Public Employment and Government Operations and then to the Committee on Finance (see page 24).

When performing legislative history research, always look for a minimum of two committees and two standing committee reports for a bill--one in each House. Many, many bills, however, go to more than one committee to get through each house. Usually bills at the minimum will go to the Senate and House Judiciary Committees for a check for possible legal complications or to the Senate Ways and Means Committee or House Finance Committee to check for financial implications.

Continuing the legislative history for House Bill No. 1311, on the 30th day it was referred to the Committee on Public Employment and Government Operations (see page 25). No reason for the referral is shown.

On the 32nd day, House Bill No. 1311 was reported out of the Committee on Public Employment and Government Operations with a recommendation that it pass Second Reading, as amended, and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading (see page 26). At this point, note the reference to Standing Committee Report No. 510. Since the Journal and the page references in the History of Bills Table reflect floor action, the committee report is not reproduced at this point.

In Hawaii Legislative Journals, committee reports are placed in the appendix of the Journal after setting forth the floor action for the legislative session. This has been done since 1951 in the House and 1955 in the Senate. Before then committee reports were found in the Journal proceedings at the point of discussion (see Appendix C). It should also be noted that since First and Second Reading in each house are usually a formality, they occur by voice vote and there is seldom any discussion. Controversial bills, however, may be discussed even upon introduction or First Reading. Therefore, a review of these actions should not be ignored under the impression that nothing ever happens at this point in the legislative process.

In order to find Standing Committee Report No. 510, the appendix of the House Journal must be checked. Committee reports in the Journal appendices are set forth in numerical order, first conference committee reports and then standing committee reports. Armed with the number 510, the researcher can find the standing committee report (see page 31). Sometimes the History of Bills Table in the older Legislative Journals will give the page number at which the committee report may be found. In recent Journals, however, the only way to find the committee report in the appendix is to go through the Journals page by page. Since the reports are in numerical order, however, it is fairly easy to find them.

The next action on House Bill No. 1311 occurred on the 33rd day when it passed the House on Third Reading (see page 27).

At this point in the legislative process, House Bill No. 1311 goes to the Senate for consideration. Since the House Journal is being reviewed, however, research in the House Journal should be completed first. The next action on House Bill No. 1311 in the House Journal occurred on the 47th day when the bill was returned from the Senate in an amended form and placed on file for further action (see page 28). On the 49th day the House disagreed with the Senate amendments and requested a conference on the subject matter of the amendments (see page 29). On the 53rd day the Senate informed the House of its conferees and the House appointed its own conferees (see page 30).

The bill did not come out of conference during the 1983 Legislative Session but it passed during the 1984 Legislative Session. Thus, the 1984 House and Senate Journals must be reviewed to find out what happened. First, however, the research for 1983 should be completed by checking the 1983 Senate Journal.

In the back of the Senate Journal, a History of Senate Bills Table is presented, then a History of Senate Concurrent Resolutions and Senate Resolutions, and then a History of House Bills. At the listing for House Bill No. 1311, the pages for Senate action are set forth (see page 41). The same process used in the House Journal is used in the Senate Journal. On the 34th day of the session, House Bill No. 1311 passed First Reading and was placed on the calendar for further consideration (see page 34). On the 35th day it was referred to the Senate Committee on Government Operations and County Relations (see pages 35 and 36). On the 45th day the bill was reported out of the Committee by Senate Standing Committee Report No. 731, passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading (see page 37). Senate Standing Committee Report No. 731 is found in the appendix of the Senate Journal (see page 40). On the 46th day House Bill No. 1311 passed Third Reading in the Senate with Senator Abercrombie voting No (see page 38). On the 52nd day the Senate was informed of the disagreement of the House to the Senate amendments and appointed Senate conference conferees (see page 39).

This completes the legislative research for 1983. Now, the 1984 Senate and House Journals must be looked at, as House Bill No. 1311 passed in 1984.

Again, since a House Bill is being followed, start with the House Journal. The first listing in the History of House Bills Table (see page 52) is to the 57th day where the House indicates that House Bill No. 1311 was reported out of conference in Conference Committee Report No. 18-84 (see pages 44 and 45). Conference committee reports are in the appendix of the Journal and come before standing committee reports. With report number 18-84, the conference committee report may be found (see pages 50 and 51). On the 59th day the conference committee report was adopted and the bill passed on Final Reading in the House with fifty votes in favor and Representative Baker excused (see pages 46 and 47).

At this point floor speeches by Representatives Medeiros and Tam may be found. These speeches and any other floor discussion may be important to a determination of legislative intent and must be reviewed just as committee reports are reviewed to determine legislative intent.

On the 60th day, the Senate informed the House that the Senate passed House Bill No. 1311 on Final Reading (see page 48). (The Journal incorrectly sets forth the House Bill number as 1311-84.)

Since it is a House Bill, it is the House's responsibility to transmit the bill to the governor for signature or veto. The House Journal indicates that the Governor informed the House that House Bill No. 1311 was signed on June 6, 1984, as Act 271 (see page 49). This completes the research in the House Journal. The Senate Journal must be checked in order to complete the Journal research on House Bill No. 1311.

The History of House Bills Table in the Senate Journal (see page 59) shows that on the 11th day in the Senate all bills referred to the Senate Clerk at the end of the 1983 session were returned to the committee which had them last (see page 54). In the case of House Bill No. 1311, it goes back to the conference committee.

It is the practice of the Senate to recall all bills which carry over from a legislative session in an odd-numbered year to a session in an even-numbered year from committee to the clerk's office. At the opening of the next session the bills are returned to their respective committees. The House of Representatives, on the other hand, leaves its bills in committee.

On the 57th day in the Senate, the Senate reported the bill from conference in Conference Committee Report No. 15-84 (see page 55). Like the House, the conference committee reports are found in the appendix of the Senate Journal (see page 58). On the 59th day, House Bill No. 1311 passed the Senate on final reading with all senators voting in favor of the bill and without discussion (see page 56). Finally, there is a governor's message informing the Senate that the bill is Act 271 (see page 57).

Once the various committee reports and floor speeches have been found through this process, they may be reviewed to determine legislative intent.

This exercise shows what it takes to do the legislative research for one act amending one section of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Section 321-11, discussed in chapter 1, had six compilations and twenty-three different acts. While researching all of these acts, other acts of interest may be found to be researched. Unfortunately, there are few short cuts to this process. Those which may be used are discussed in chapter 3.

Searching for committee reports to concurrent resolutions, those resolutions adopted by both the Senate and the House of Representatives, and resolutions, those adopted by only one house of the legislature, would be undertaken in the same manner. First, the number of the resolution is determined, then the History of Concurrent Resolutions or the History of Resolutions Table in the back of the Journals would be checked to determine the page numbers discussing the resolution. These pages would in turn contain the committee report number adopting the resolution, if any. A resolution asking some agency or person to perform some action would usually have a committee report which recommended its adoption and enumerated some of the concerns of the committee.

Other Searches Which May be Performed

In performing Journal research, various drafts of the bill which preceded the final act found in the Session Laws may need to be reviewed. Particularly after reading the committee reports, the next step may be to look at the changes made by the legislative committees. Legislative committee reports do not discuss every little change that is made to a bill in committee, and in some instances, do not discuss major changes.

In order to obtain the drafts of a bill before it became an act, the bill number is necessary. The various drafts of the bill can be found at the Archives or for the most recent ten-year period at the Legislative Reference Bureau Library. Testimony given in committee on a particular bill may also be of interest and may be found in the Archives. Both Houses require their committees to file a copy of the testimony on each bill with the Archives. When researching at the Archives one may find, however, that there was no testimony or none filed.

A different problem legislative researchers are faced with is finding bills on a certain subject which have not become law but for some reason or the other they need to review. Depending on the year in which research is being performed, the difficulty varies.

The Legislative Journals began to contain a subject matter index in 1915 and they carried an index which grew in complexity through 1970. An example of this index for 1963 has been reproduced in Appendix D (see pages 87 and 88). In 1971, the Journals dropped the index. After that period, one must use the index prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau. Examples from 1971 and 1977 are included in Appendix D (see pages 89 and 92). An example of the status tables in those years as they existed before computerization is also set forth (see pages 90, 91, and 93). In 1981 and 1982, the Bureau computer data base contained an index. A hard copy and microfiche were prepared of the data base, including the index, and sent to all regional libraries in the Hawaii State Library System, the Legislative Reference Bureau Library, and the Archives. No computer version of this index has been prepared since 1984. The reason for this is that what used to be called Status was combined with the index in 1983. Instead of a single word index, the Bureau Systems Office used a DESCRIPT paragraph containing index words and phrases which may be useful in finding a bill on the proper subject. Beginning in 1985, a KEYWORDS paragraph was added. Although no computer version of an index is available, a microfiche index is still prepared and distributed on a delayed basis.

A final problem that should be discussed concerns statutes which have been enacted during one period of the informal compilation of the Hawaii Revised Statutes and placed in the Pocket Part. Later, but before the next informal compilation of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, the statute is repealed. Thus, the only place in which the statute is codified is in the Pocket Part which is generally thrown out after one year.

An example is section 323D-46.1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, enacted by Act 75, Session Laws of Hawaii 1980, and repealed by Act 267, Session Laws of Hawaii 1984.

[§323D-46.1] Increase in project cost. (a) In issuing a certificate of need, the state agency shall specify in the certificate of need the maximum amount of capital expenditures which may be obligated under the certificate of need.

(b) The state agency shall adopt rules in conformity with chapter 91 requiring the holder of a certificate of need to obtain state agency approval or an additional certificate of need if the amount of capital expenditures obligated or expected to be obligated for the project exceeds the maximum amount specified in the certificate of need. [L 1980, c 75, §19]

If the researcher is reviewing the Hawaii Revised Statutes in 1985, after this section has been repealed, all the researcher would find in the Pocket Part is the following notation:

§323D-46.1 REPEALED. L 1984, c 267, §17.

The same notation occurs in all replacement volumes of the Hawaii Revised Statutes after 1984. In order to find the text of this section, first the researcher could go to Act 267, 1984 Session Laws. The text of the section, however, would not be in the Session Laws as the Revisor of Statutes does not set forth the text of repealed sections in the Session Laws.¹ The researcher would then have to take the bill number from Act 267, H.B. No. 1933-84, and review the bill for the text of the section where the text is displayed in full. The bill can be found at the Legislative Reference Bureau Library if less than ten years old, or otherwise at the Archives. In the alternative, the researcher could look at the Pocket Part for 1983 to the Hawaii Revised Statutes and find the text of the section. Pocket Parts to the Hawaii Revised Statutes which are not current can be found at the Archives, the Supreme Court Law Library, the William S. Richardson School of Law Library, or the Legislative Reference Bureau Library.

HOW THE LEGISLATIVE HISTORY OF A STATUTE IS RESEARCHED

*Since 1984, the Session Laws of Hawaii contains a listing of various committee reports associated with bills passing both both houses of the legislature. From 1963-1983, this same information can be found in the Digest and Index of Laws Enacted published annually for thses years by the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Committee reports for the Senate before and the House of Representatives before 195 1 are found in the Journal proceedings at the point of discussion.

If committee reports cannot be found in the Journal, the researcher must consult the Archives' file.

used for mailing addresses on the line provided in the current registration affidavit. Secondly, the prohibition of a candidate's parents, spouse, siblings or offspring born being a voter registrar. Third, a provision for filling a vacancy in the House when that vacancy is occasioned by the conviction for voter fraud. Said vacancy is to be filled by special election. Fourthly, a clarification of the provisions of the fraud section of the election laws, specifically addressing a person who induces or procures a party to register, knowing that party does not meet the residence requirement. Five, the inclusion of candidates and voter registrars in a definition of public officer; and sixth, a qualification of a violation of voter fraud is a class C felony.

This is not a fundamental change in the statutes as a whole since there are provisions for this, but it is not included in the section relating to the election law and you have to go sort of a torturous route in our statutes to find this resolve.

Mr. Speaker, as I said earlier, this is something that is fundamental, I think, with respect to our country and our State, to prevent any problems in the future, and I think it is our obligation, as legislators, to clear up as much as we can of the statutory law when we have a chance to do so. I feel it is in all of our best interest to give this amendment serious consideration, Mr. Speaker, and I hope the members of this body will join us in broadening this statute or the proposed bill to this effect.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

SCRep. 509 Judiciary on H .B . No. 69

The purpose of this bill, as received by your Committee, is to incorporate the Model Determination of Death Act into the Hawaii Revised Statutes and to repeal the existing statutes on Determination of Death.

Your Committee has received testimony from the Department of Health in support of the bill.

Your Committee finds that H .B . No. 69, H .D . 1, is patterned after model legislation recommended by the American Medical Association.

There is a typographical error in section 1, page 2, line 4, regarding licensing requirements for persons who determine death. Here, the original bill refers to chapter 435 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The correct reference is chapter 453, Medical Practice Act. Your Committee has amended the bill accordingly.

Your Committee on Judiciary is in accord with the intent and purpose of H .B . No. 69, H.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Third Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 69, H.D. 2.

Signed by all members of the Committee.

SCRep. 510 Public Employment and Government Operations on H .B . No. 1311

The purpose of this bill is to amend Section 92-7, Hawaii Revised Statutes, subsection (b) , by deleting the seventy-two hour public notice filing and posting requirement for meetings of public agencies and to require instead a period to be later specified.

According to testimony heard by your Committee, the current requirement of seventy-two hours is not sufficient for the public to be made aware of forthcoming public hearings; an extension of time beyond the presently required seventy-two hours would be of great help in preparing for such hearings.

Your Committee is in agreement that this bill be amended by inserting the figure of six calendar days, which doubles the current time required. This would allow public agencies sufficient time to distribute hearing notices and allow the public time to view these notices and be aware of scheduled hearings. This would also allow community groups and associations time to contact interested parties and research the upcoming issues.

Your Committee on Public Employment and Government Operations is in accord with the intent and purpose of H .B . No. 1311, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Second Reading in the form attached hereto as H .B . No. 1311, H .D . 1, and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Signed by all members of the Committnee.

SCRep. 511 Public Employment and Government Operations and Ocean and Marine Resources on H .B . No. 549

The purpose of this bill is to amend Sections 26-15 and 171-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to clarify the Department of Land and Natural Resources' functions relating to aquatic life, wildlife and aquaculture programs and to make non-substantive changes to wordings used in these sections.

According to testimony, the amendments are necessary to finalize the statutory aspects relating to administrative transfer of the Aquaculture Development Program by the Governor to the Department of Land and Natural Resources from the Department of planning and Economic Development and the recent reorganization of the Department of Land and Natural Resources where the wildlife and aquatic life activities are separated into the Division of Forestry and Wildlife and the Division of Aquatic Resources,

Your Committee on Public Employment and Government Operations and Ocean and Marine Resources is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. No. 549 and recommends that it pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Signed by all members of the Committees.

Your Committee amended the bill to change the heading of Section 294-35, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to reflect the amendment proposed by this bill and to add quotation marks at the end of the section of the law being amended.

Your Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce is in accord with the intent and purpose of H .B. No. 768, H .D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Second Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 768, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Signed by all members of the Committee except Senators Halt, Yamasaki and Soares.

SCRep. 731 Government Operations and County Relations on H.B. No. 1311

The purpose of this bill is to change the required seventy-two hour public notice filing and posting requirement for meetings of public agencies to six calendar days.

Your Committee amended the bill by incorporating new material which would provide for closed meetings of the Council on Revenues and to provide for nondisclosure of confidential tax information which may be presented or discussed. The purpose of the amendment is to allow the Council to meet in private due to the sensitive nature of information that is presented.

Your Committee on Government Operations and County Relations is in accord with the intent and purpose of H .B. No. 1311, H .D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Second Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 1311, H.D. 1, S .D. 1, and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Signed by all members of the Committee except Senator Hagino.

SCRep. 732 Agriculture on H.B. No. 42

The purpose of this bill is to provide the Department of Agriculture the authority to sample and test all animal feed, and to remove adulterated feed from distribution.

In recent months, potential health hazards have resulted from pesticide residues in feeds being passed upward through the food chain to consumer products. Presently, Chapter 144, Hawaii Revised Statutes, exempts the feeds involved and certain other feeds from testing for adulteration. This bill would amend Chapter 144 to allow the Department of Agriculture to sample and test all animal feed, other than that of domestic pets, for adulteration and to remove the adulterated feed from the food chain.

This bill also adds a provision for administrative penalties for all violations of Chapter 144 and rules adopted thereunder. The current provision for criminal penalties does not allow the Department to take action immediately once violations are discovered. This amendment will improve the Department's ability to enforce Chapter 144.

Your Committee has amended the bill by making technical changes which have no substantive effect.

Your Committee on Agriculture is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. No. 42, H.D. 2, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Second Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 42, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Signed by all members of the Committee.

SCRep. 733 Agriculture on H.B. No. 43

The purpose of this bill is to amend current statutes to reflect the transfer of the agricultural product promotion and market development functions from the Department of Planning and Economic Development to the Department of Agriculture.

Under current statutes, the Department of Agriculture is not specifically given responsibility for agricultural product promotion and market development. In the past these functions were performed by the Department of Planning and Economic Development. Responsibility for agricultural product promotion and market development was transferred to the Department of Agriculture on April 16, 1982 by Executive Order 82-2 issued by the Governor pursuant to Act 98, Session Laws of Hawaii

Representative Tam moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and H.B. No. 1311, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Representative Grauity.

Representative Medeiros then rose and requested that his remarks, in favor of the bill with reservations be inserted into the Journal and the Chair, noting that there were no objections, "so ordered."

Representative Medeiros's remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am supporting this bill with grave reservations.

I agree wholeheartedly that the public should have as much notice as possible of the hearings of public agencies in order to make arrangements to attend and to prepare testimony. However, there are times when these agencies must meet quickly to handle an emergency situation. Although most agencies in this situation are covered under Section 92-8, HRSA, and may hold an emergency meeting without the six calendar days notice if it finds there is an imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare. But there are agencies which need to hold emergency meetings and do not fit into the specific exemptions of Section 92-8. It is these agencies I am concerned about."

Representative Tam then rose to speak in favor of the bill, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in essence, this bill is a sunshine bill or an open government bill. Under present State law, government boards and commissions are required to provide public notice of any meeting at least three days before the meeting is held. This bill would enable the general public to be notified of public meetings at least six days before the meeting. The present prior notice requirement of three days is insufficient. It is generally known that the mail usually takes anywhere from two to three days to be delivered. Thus, the general public is not allowed sufficient time to prepare to attend public meetings or to voice their opinions on issues which may affect their livelihoods, their communities and their lifestyles. Insufficient public notice invites criticism of closed door decisions and discourages citizen participation in the democratic society of government. Prior to my election into the House of Representatives, I experienced this problem.

In addition to allowing more sufficient notice of government meetings to the general public, the change proposed by this bill would also allow legislators and other government officials to be better informed of upcoming meetings of various boards and commissions who would be allowed to be more effective in communicating with our constituents and represent their concerns.

In the year 1984, it seems especially appropriate to emphasize that the ordinary citizen must not become the victim of a government which mandates and dominates him. We need to be reaffirmed that our democratic system must be based on the principle of government that is of the people, by the people and for the people. For us in Hawaii, the sunshine act would be part of that reaffirmation.

In closing, I ask all of my colleagues to vote yes.

Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1311, HD 1, SD 1, CD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC AGENCY MEETINGS AND RECORDS", having been read throughout, passed Final Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Baker being excused.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS
TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2044-84

Honorable Members
Twelfth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No, 2044-84, entitled "Relating to Insurance."

The purpose of House Bill No. 2044-84 is to exempt. the public employee's health fund from the requirements of Hawaii Revised Statutes chapter 431A and to continue the moratorium imposed upon premium increases in workers' compensation rates.

Section 2 of this bill amends Hawaii Revised Statutes Section 431-694(a) by prohibiting insurance carriers from submitting rate filings until June 1, 1985. However, Hawaii Revised Statutes Section 431-694(a) is not limited in scope to workers' compensation insurance. The statute also applies to rate increases in other lines of casualty insurance. Therefore, while the effect of the proposed amendment. would be to prohibit rate increases in workers' compensation insurance, the bill also prohibits rate increases in other lines of casualty insurance. The moratorium on rate increases in other categories of

Conf. Corn. Rep. 16-84 on H.B. No. 1790-84

The purpose of this bill was to allow speedier formation of businesses within the State by simplifying the registration standards used in determining the acceptability of business names and marks.

Sour Committee, upon further consideration, has amended page 8, line 15 to correct a drafting error. Section 482-4(a) Hawaii Revised Statutes, has been amended to read as follows:

“(a) It [is] shall be unlawful for any person to adopt or use a print, label, trademark, service mark, or trade name which is identical to or confusingly similar....”

Your Committee on Conference is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. 1790 H.D. 1, S.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Final Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 1790-84, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1.

Conf. Corn. Rep. 17-84 on H.B. No. 2012-84

The purpose of this bill was to require licensed contractors who advertise to include their assigned license number in their advertisements.

Your Committee finds that an effective date upon approval would be unduly burdensome and unrealistic, since telephone advertising solicitation for the 1985 telephone directory has been going on for several months. Your Committee, in fairness to the industry has, upon further consideration, amended the bill by amending Section 3 to read as follows:

“This Act shall take effect on November 1, 1984.”

Your Committee on Conference is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. No. 2012-84, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Final Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 2012-84, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1.

Conf. Corn. Rep. 18-84 on H.B. No. 1311

The purpose of this bill is to amend Section 92-7 (b) of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, by expanding the seventy-two hour public notice filing and posting requirement for meetings of public agencies.

According to testimony previously received by your Committee, the current seventy-two hour requirement is not sufficient for the public to be made aware of forthcoming public hearings. Further, an extension of time beyond the present requirement would be of great assistance to individual citizens and community groups and associations in the preparation for public hearings.

Your Committee has amended this bill by deleting the amendment made to Section 37-111(c) which would provide for closed meetings of the Council on Revenues and for the nondisclosure of confidential tax information. In its place, your Committee has reinserted the amendment requiring six calendar days for the filing of notice of public meetings in lieu of the seventy-two hour requirement currently in Section 92-7(b). In addition, the phrase "in the manner provided herein" in lines 11 and 12 on page one of the bill has been deleted.

Your Committee is in agreement that the above-described amendments which doubles the current time required for filing of hearing notices are consistent with the original bill.

Your Committee on Conference is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. No. 1311, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Final Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 1311, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1.

Conf. Com. Rep. 19-84 on S.B. No. 300

The purpose of this bill is to amend Chapter 291, Part II, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by adding a new section to require that automobile alarm systems which emit sounds when activated have an automatic device that terminates the alarm system within ten minutes of activation.

Presently, motor vehicle alarm systems are not subject to any kind of statutory regulation. They frequently malfunction causing many people to suffer through hours of noise and discomfort and police are not authorized to deactivate these alarms.

The main purpose of this bill is to prevent excessive and continuous noise from motor vehicle alarm systems. Your Committee finds that this purpose can best be achieved by requiring registered owners to be responsible for deactivating their alarm systems rather than by prohibiting the sale, purchase or installation of alarm systems which do not automatically terminate within a specified period of time. Therefore, your Committee has amended S.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, by:

1. Amending subsection (b) to provide that registered owners shall be fined if their motor vehicle alarm systems are activated for more than five continuous minutes. Presently, subsection (b) prohibits the purchase, sale or installation of motor vehicle alarm systems which do not automatically terminate within ten minutes.

2. Amending subsection (b) to decrease the time period during which motor vehicle alarm systems may legally emit sound from ten to five minutes.

3. Amending subsection (b) to provide that fines for violations of this new section shall be "not more than $100".

Your Committee believes that courts should have discretion in assessing fines for violations of this new section since- there may be times when alarm system malfunctions may be caused by the illegal acts of others and finds that this penalty provision provides such flexibility.

4. Deleting subsections (c) and (d) since these provisions are applicable only where there is a prohibition against the sale, purchase or installation of certain types of alarm systems.

5. Deleting the instruction that this new section shall be included in part II of Chapter 291, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Your Committee believes that this bill, as amended, can afford residents with some relief from the frequent malfunctioning of vehicle alarm systems and at the same time takes into consideration the concerns of victims whose alarm systems are damaged by the illegal acts of others.

Your Committee on Conference is in accord with the intent and purpose of S.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Final Reading in the form attached hereto as S.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1.

"The Chair would like to make two announcements at this time. First, the introduction of bills will commence this afternoon. An informational memo about this is being distributed to your offices at the present time.

"Secondly, all bills returned to the Clerk's office at the end of the 1983 session are herewith returned back to the committees which had them last.

"For the record, all referrals are being made in accordance with the existing committee structure. However, I'm still hopeful that some kind of reconciliation among the Senate Democrats can be achieved. Also, the consolidation of some of the Senate committees is being worked on. Thus, I want to notify everyone that should there be any changes made to the committee structure in the next few days, appropriate re-referrals will be made."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, I just have an inquiry of form. Is the bill in the correct form with the underlining on line 7 and line 11? Is that simply to take out the word 'he'?"

At 9:43 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 9:45 o'clock p.m.

Senator Abercrombie then continued: "Mr. President, I think the chairman of the Judiciary Committee can clear my question with a statement for the record."

Senator Chang responded: "Mr. President, the question was raised as to whether the word 'he' was intended to be deleted or inserted on line 7 and line 11 of this particular bill. The answer to that question is that the word 'he' is being inserted.

"The question was further raised as to whether this insertion of the word 'he' was appropriate inasmuch as the Legislature has been engaged in the process of degenderizing our statutes and my answer to that question was that in this particular case your conference committees had addressed themselves to the particular statutory reference on line 12 where Chapter 585 was incorrectly referred to, where it should have referred to Chapter 586. And the House conferees were reluctant to take up which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

June 6, 1984

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 2477-84

Honorable Members
Twelfth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2477-84, entitled 'Relating to Horizontal Property Regimes.'

House Bill No. 2477-84 would amend section 514A-82(1), Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) to address potential situations of mathematical impossibilities in the current law which require the terms of at least one-third of the directors of a condominium association's board to expire each year. This bill would provide that when the number of persons constituting the board is not a multiple of three, the terms of that number of directors nearest to representing one-third of the directors shall expire annually.

Senate Bill No. 2085-84, which became law on May 18, 1984, as Act 112 with the Governor's approval, amends section 514A-82(1), HRS, among other provisions. Act 112 repeals the existing clause requiring that the terms of at least one-third of the directors expire annually; the Act replaces it with a requirement that condominiums with more than one hundred individual apartment units shall have an elected board of not less than nine members, unless not less than seventy-five per cent of all apartment owners vote to set the minimum number of directors at less than nine. The Act also adds a provision setting the initial term of office at either three years, or as specified by the bylaws, or until the directors' successors are elected or appointed.

Since Act 112 repealed that part of section 514A-82, HRS, amended by House Bill No. 2477-84, Act 112 renders the amendments of House Bill No. 2477-84 moot.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House bill No. 2477-84 without my approval as provided by Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ George R. Ariyoshi
GEORGE R. ARIYOSHI
Governor of Hawaii."

" P R O C L A M A T I O N

WHEREAS, under Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii the governor is required to give notice, by a proclamation, of his plan to return with his objections any bill presented to him less than ten days before adjournment sine die or presented to him after adjournment sine die of the legislature; and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 2477-84, entitled 'Relating to Horizontal Property Regimes,' passed by the legislature, was presented to the governor within the aforementioned period; and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 2477-84 is unacceptable to the governor of the State of Hawaii;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE R. ARIYOSHI, Governor of the State of Hawaii, hereby issue this proclamation pursuant to the provisions of Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, giving notice of my plan to return House Bill No. 2477-84 with my objections thereon to the legislature as provided by said Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution.

DONE at the State Capitol,
Honolulu, State of Hawaii,
this 6th day of June,
1984.

/s/ George R. Ariyoshi
GEORGE R. ARIYOSHI
Governor of Hawaii."

Conf. Corn. Rep. No. 14-84 on H.B. No. 2012-84

The purpose of this bill was to require licensed contractors who advertise to include their assigned license number in their advertisements.

Your Committee finds that an effective date upon approval would be unduly burdensome and unrealistic, since telephone advertising solicitation for the 1985 telephone directory has been going on for several months. Your Committee, in fairness to the industry has, upon further consideration, amended the bill by amending Section 3 to read as follows:

"This Act shall take effect on November 1, 1984."

Your Committee on Conference is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. No. 2012-84, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Final Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 2012-84, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1.

Conf. Corn. Rep. No. 15-84 on H.B. No. 1311

The purpose of this bill is to amend Section 92-7 (b) of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, by expanding the seventy-two hour public notice filing and posting requirement for meetings of public agencies.

According to testimony previously received by your Committee, the current seventy-two hour requirement is not sufficient for the public to be made aware of forthcoming public hearings. Further, an extension of time beyond the present requirement would be of great assistance to individual citizens and community groups and associations in the preparation for public hearings.

Your Committee has amended this bill by deleting the amendment made to Section 37-111(c) which would provide for closed meetings of the Council on Revenues and for the nondisclosure of confidential tax information. In its place, your Committee has reinserted the amendment requiring six calendar days for the filing of notice of public meetings in lieu of the seventy-two hour requirement currently in Section 92-7(b). In addition, the phrase "in the manner provided herein" in lines 11 and 12 on page one of the bill has been deleted.

Your Committee on Conference is in accord with the intent and purpose of H.B. No. 1311, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, as amended herein, and recommends that it pass Final Reading in the form attached hereto as H.B. No. 1311, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1.

Chapter 3

SHORTCUTS IN LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH

Unfortunately, there are few shortcuts to the process of legislative research discussed in chapter 2. One which was mentioned is the use of the ten-year compilations to narrow down the search. These compilations may be used to bracket the amendment which is being researched. For example, by checking the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1955 and the first publication of the Hawaii Revised Statutes in 1968, one may determine that an amendment being sought for occurred during the period between 1955 and 1967. If such a determination can be made, then only the session laws and legislative journals for that period need to be reviewed.

The compilations which are usually used are the Penal Code of 1850, Civil Code of 1859, Compiled Laws 1884, Civil Laws 1897, Penal Code 1897, and the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1905, 1915, 1925, 1935, 1945, and 1955. The Hawaii Revised Statutes was first issued in 1968 and contained the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1955 and all session law amendments through 1967; the 1976 replacement of the Hawaii Revised Statutes contained all session law amendments through 1976; the 1985 replacement of the Hawaii Revised Statutes contained all session law amendments through 1985; and the 1993 replacement of the Hawaii Revised Statutes contains all session law amendments through 1993.

Certain Session Law references appear in source notes throughout the Hawaii Revised Statutes which are not relevant to a substantive legislative amendment (i.e., an amendment which changes the meaning of a section) and legislative history research for those references may be unnecessary. If such Session Law references appear in a Hawaii Revised Statutes section for which they carry substantive relevance, they should be researched. The researcher must determine what is and what is not a substantive amendment and facility with this aspect of legislative research will come with practice.

For example: am L Sp 1959 2d, c 1, §11, tells the researcher that the Session Laws of Hawaii 1959, Second Special Session, Act 1, section 11, created the Department of Personnel Services. For substantive legislative history, this section is compiled at §26-5, Hawaii Revised Statutes. The Revisor of Statutes also has inserted this reference wherever the “Department of Personnel Services” was substituted for the “Department of Civil Service” in a statute. Such an insertion tells the researcher that a change was made and legally supports the change. In researching legislative history, such name or word changes usually are not of interest to the legislative researcher concerned with substantive amendments made to a Hawaii Revised Statutes section.

The following is a listing of the most often used of these Session Law references and the word changes made.

1. am L Sp 1959 2d, c 1, §11

Substituted the Department of Personnel Services for the Personnel Classification Board, the Department of Civil Service, and the Loyalty Board and the Director of Personnel Services for the Personnel Director.

2. am L Sp 1959 2d, c 1, §12

The 1959 citations concern the reorganization of Hawaii government after statehood. Since Hawaii reduced some eighty plus bureaus, commissions, and agencies upon statehood to seventeen departments with different names, the 1959 citations occur in section source notes throughout the Hawaii Revised Statutes.

While the following cannot be considered a nonsubstantive amendment, it occurs in source notes throughout the Hawaii Revised Statutes and the legislative researcher may not wish to review the legislation if interested in other amendments to a statute.

1. am L 1997, c 383, §§5 to 71

Chapter 4

REPEALS AND REENACTMENTS, TEMPORARY SESSION LAW MATERIAL

Part I. Repeals and Reenactments (R&Rs)

Introduction

For years the legislature has forced review of legislation by enacting new provisions and providing for their repeal (sunsetting) after a number of years. Until 1986, this did not occur too often. In 1986 the legislature added an automatic reenactment provision whenever a repealer was used (these became known informally as "R&R provisions"). In this way, if the legislature failed to eliminate the repeal, the old provisions of law would become operative. Otherwise, if the underlying statute was found to be repealed when the Act "dropped dead", there would be no law in place. For further discussion of this problem, see the most recent version of the Hawaii Legislative Drafting Manual.

R&R Chains; Notations in Statutes

An interesting development in the use of R&Rs is that the legislature increasingly has extended repealers many times. The chain of R&Rs to section 40-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, provides an example.

L 1986, c 321, §12 enacted new provisions and repealed them on 6/30/89.

L 1987, c 283, §69 added a reenactment provision to revive the old language if the repeal was not deleted.

L 1989, c 371, §7 extended the repeal to 6/30/94.

L 1991, c 163, §3 amended the reenactment provision.

L 1993, c 314, §2 extended the repeal to 6/30/98.

L 1997, c 180, §1 extended the repeal to 6/30/2000.

L 1998, c 115, §24 extended the repeal to 6/30/2005.

Until recently, the Revisor of Statutes handled these R&R provisions through Notes either italicized in the statute or in a Note at the end of the statute. For example, section 36-30, Hawaii Revised Statutes, contained this Note in italics after subsection (a):

§36-30 Special fund reimbursements for departmental administrative expenses. (a) [Repeal and reenactment on June 30, 2000. L 1997, c 216, §13.] Each special fund, except the: * * *

This Note meant that subsection (a) would be repealed and reenacted on June 30, 2000, pursuant to Act 216, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997. The notes are placed after the title of the section if the whole section is to be repealed and reenacted. Another example is section 36-27, Hawaii Revised Statutes, where the note was placed in paragraph (10):

- (10) [Repeal and reenactment on June 30, 2000. L 1997, c 216, §13.]
Domestic violence prevention special fund under section 321-1.3;

This Note signaled that paragraph (10) of section 36-27, Hawaii Revised Statutes, would be repealed and reenacted on June 30, 2000.

Where the section is not set forth in the supplement, the Revisor is using a Note to signal R&Rs. For example, the Note in the 2000 supplement for section 40-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, reads:

Note

Repeal and reenactment on June 30, 1998 extended to June 30, 2005. L 1986, c 321, §12, L 1987, c 283, §69; L 1989, c 371, §7; L 1991, c 163, §3; L 1993, c 314, §2; L Sp 1993, c 8, §22; L 1997 c 180, §1; L 1998, c 115, §24.

Once the R&R occurs or the repeal is deleted, the Revisor's Notes in the section or at the end of the section are also deleted. In order to assist statutory research, the Revisor has started to place the R&R reference in the Source Note at the end of the section. The reference to R&Rs in a Source Note will be inserted upon the maturity of the R&R. Maturity means that no further changes will be made to the R&R because it either has taken effect or been deleted. For example, the R&R chain for section 40-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, will continue to be shown in a Note to the section until June 30, 2005. If on June 30, 2005, the old statutory language is reenacted or if the June 30, 2005, repeal date is deleted and not extended, then the chain of R&Rs for section 40-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, will have matured, and therefore will be placed in the Source Note of the section. Thus, the Source Note to section 40-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, upon maturity of the R&R might read as follows:

[L 1898, c 39, §10; RL 1925, §1437; am L 1927, c 219, §3; RL 1935, §564; RL 1945, §1568; RL 1955, §34-17; am L 1957, c 152, §1; am L 1959, c 151, §1; am L Sp 1959 2d, c 1, §14; am L 1963, c 114, §1; HRS §40-2; am L 1974, c 159, §5; am L 1986, c 321, §§5, 12; am L 1987, c 283, §69; am L 1989, c 371, §7; am L 1991, c 163, §3; am L 1993, c 314, §2; am L Sp 1993, c 8, §22; am L 1997, c 180, §1; am L 1998, c 115, §24]

Note that from L 1986, c 321, §12, the remaining references are to R&R legislation. If any substantive amendments occurred before June 30, 2005, they, of course, would be added to the Source Note.

In order to recognize R&R legislation, the following examples may be of help.

- (1) A repealer or sunset provision from L 1997, c 299, §4:

SECTION 4. This Act shall take effect upon its approval and shall be repealed on December 31, 2000.

- (2) The deletion of a repealer from L 1998, c 273, §3:

SECTION 3. Act 299, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997, is amended by amending section 4 to read as follows:

“SECTION 4. This Act shall take effect upon its approval [and shall be repealed on December 31, 2000].”

- (3) A repeal and reenactment from L 1997, c 118, §6:

SECTION 6. This Act shall take effect upon its approval and be repealed on June 30, 1998; provided that sections 157-1, 157-13, 157-33, and 157-34, Hawaii Revised Statutes, are reenacted in the form in which they read on the day before the approval of this Act.

- (4) A deletion of the repeal and reenactment from L 1998, c 19, §1:

SECTION 1. Act 118, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997, is amended by amending section 6 to read as follows:

“SECTION 6. This Act shall take effect upon its approval [and be repealed on June 30, 1998; provided that sections 157-1, 157-13, 157-33, and 157-34, Hawaii Revised Statutes, are reenacted in the form in which they read on the day before the approval of this Act].”

- (5) A repeal extension from L 1995, c 174, §2:

SECTION 2. Act 231, Session Laws of Hawaii 1992, is amended by amending section 6 to read as follows:

“SECTION 6. This Act shall take effect on September 1, 1992, and shall be repealed on [June 30, 1995.] June 30, 1998.”

Exceptions from R&Rs

There is a downside to R&Rs, however, since intervening substantive amendments to the statute are also repealed when a repeal and reenactment occurs, and the statute thus reverts to the form in which it existed at an earlier date. For example, see section 103-22, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which was amended by Act 229, Session Laws of Hawaii 1987, with a repeal and reenactment in 1991. The legislature failed to pass a bill to prevent the R&R and as a result substantive amendments to section 103-22, Hawaii Revised Statutes, made in 1987, 1988, 1989, and 1990 were eliminated. The legislature acted at the next legislative session to reenact all of the repealed provisions.

Legislative drafters now protect later amendments from earlier R&Rs. Two methods are used. One is to amend the Session Law which contains the R&R to provide that it does not affect the later amendment. An example from L 1999, c 163, §18:

SECTION 18. Act 142, Session Laws of Hawaii 1998, is amended by amending section 9 to read as follows:

“SECTION 9. This Act shall take effect upon its approval and shall be repealed on July 31, 2003, except that section 3 of this Act shall not be repealed; provided that sections 36-27 and 397-5(b), Hawaii Revised Statutes, shall be reenacted in the form in which they read on the day before the approval of this Act[.]; and provided further that the amendments made to section 36-27, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by section 8 of Act 163, Session Laws of Hawaii 1999, shall be retained.”

Another method found in a Session Law making a substantive amendment to a section in the Hawaii Revised Statutes is to provide that an earlier R&R does not affect the substantive amendments. An example from L 1999, c 135, §7:

SECTION 7. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 1999; provided that:

- (1) The amendments made to sections 36-27 and 36-30, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by this Act shall not be repealed when those sections are reenacted on July 1, 2000, pursuant to section 13 of Act 216, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997; and
- (2) The amendments made to section 37-27, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by this Act shall not be repealed when that section is reenacted on July 31, 2003, pursuant to section 9 of Act 142, Session Laws of Hawaii 1998.

These R&R exceptions now constitute a continual activity for the legislative drafter. References to R&R exceptions are not included in Source Notes at the end of sections. In order to find R&R exceptions:

- (1) A legislative researcher must be aware that an R&R applies to a section in the Hawaii Revised Statutes. This is easy to determine since the Revisor of Statutes adds Notes within a section or at the end of a section.
- (2) Next, the legislative researcher locates the substantive amendment made to the section in the Source Note and then goes to the Session Law containing the substantive amendment.
- (3) Since the researcher knows from paragraph (1) that an R&R applies to a section in the Hawaii Revised Statutes, the legislative researcher must check the rest of the Session Laws to determine if the new amendments are excepted from the R&R.

Another way of determining if R&R exceptions exist is to check the Sections Affected Table at the end of each volume of Session Laws to find Acts amending earlier Session Laws. For example, the Sections Affected Table in the 1999 Session Laws contains references under Laws 1998, Act 142 to Act 163 of 1999 and under Laws 1997, Act 216 to Act 135 of 1999.

Unfortunately, if the R&R has matured or been eliminated, the Revisor’s Notes within a section or at the end of a section will be deleted. In this case, the legislative researcher can still perform either research method, but without the assistance of the Revisor’s Notes, or if the Revisor has inserted an R&R reference in the source notes, those references can be checked.

Impact of R&Rs

In order to provide a feeling for the extent R&Rs are used, the Revisor of Statutes maintains a list of more than forty pages to keep track of R&Rs.

Part II. Temporary Session Law Material

It is common for the legislature to enact temporary provisions that are effective for a few years. In some cases, like R&Rs, however, these temporary provisions are extended for a further period of time. These provisions are not codified in the Hawaii Revised Statutes, as the Statutes consist of "...laws of a general and permanent nature...", see section 23G-14, Hawaii Revised Statutes (emphasis added). An Act that provides for its own repeal after (for example) five years is not permanent, and therefore, usually not codified.

Finding these temporary legislative provisions can range in difficulty. The Revisor of Statutes does place notes in the Hawaii Revised Statutes at subject matter related provisions to assist the researcher to find these temporary provisions. In finding these notes, it helps to think about the provision as it might be indexed. There are no index entries, however, to assist the researcher, and there are no notes for provisions that are only in effect for one year. Notes are deleted when the provisions expire.

To give the researcher a flavor of the provisions receiving this treatment, the following discusses two of these temporary provisions.

1. Act 190, Session Laws of Hawaii 1996, repealed on June 30, 1999, extended by Act 101, Session Laws of Hawaii 1999, to June 30, 2003.

This Act provides for a conclusive presumption relating to the duty of public entities to warn of dangers at public beach parks. It further provides that proper signs warning of dangerous natural conditions shall be presumed to adequately warn of those conditions.

The note for this Act is found at each of the following locations:

- (1) Chapter 46, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), general provisions for counties;
- (2) Section 46-12.5, HRS, state beach park lifeguard services;
- (3) Chapter 171, HRS, public lands, management, and disposition;
- (4) Chapter 200, HRS, ocean recreation and coastal area programs;
- (5) Section 486K-5.5, HRS, hotelkeeper's liability limited for certain beach and ocean activities; and
- (6) Chapter 663, HRS, tort actions.

2. Act 77, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997, repealed on June 30, 2001, extended by Act 60, Session Laws of Hawaii 2000, to June 30, 2010.

This Act provides for early education and care. It allows any state agency to contract with a private nonprofit corporation to coordinate policy, distribute public funds, and implement community plans relating to early childhood education and care. A board of directors, community councils and interdepartmental councils are provided.

The note for this Act is found at each of the following locations:

- (1) Chapter 302A, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), relating to education;
- (2) Chapter 321, HRS, health;
- (3) Chapter 321D, HRS, interdepartmental cluster for services to children; and
- (4) Section 346-151, HRS, definitions for the child care facilities law.

Another method of finding these temporary provisions is to review the index of each Session Law until it is found or call the Revisor of Statutes.

If the researcher has access to a computer, then it may be easier to find the appropriate session law.

- Go to the Hawaii State Legislative Website (<http://www.capitol.hawaii.gov>)
- Click on Status and Documents
- Enter search in “Search the HRS text for”

If “public beach parks” is entered, then the search result would be similar to the presentation for number 1 above. The note would be shown, as well as, the Session Laws citation and the place of the note.

Chapter 5

SESSION LAWS, USEFUL TABLES, AND CODIFICATIONS

Part I. Session Laws

The method of publishing the Session Laws has changed with time and the person responsible for their publication. Most Session Laws contain acts in numerical sequence starting with the number 1. This makes finding the act and the bill number needed in order to research the progress of the bill through a legislative session quite simple.

During the period 1935 to 1953, however, the acts are not placed in the Session Laws in numerical sequence, but were gathered together by the subject matter of the Revised Laws of Hawaii. This requirement was instituted as a part of the compilation of the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1935 and was repealed, partially, due to the compilation of the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1955.¹ An example from the Session Laws of Hawaii 1943 appears in Appendix E. Act 1 of the 1943 Session Laws is to be found on page 288 of the 1943 Session Laws. Therefore, in looking for acts between 1935 and 1953, the table of contents of the session laws must be consulted to find the page on which an act starts.

Determining an amendment made to a statutory section by an act has become easier over the years. Act 271, Session Laws of Hawaii 1984, set forth in chapter 2, contains bracketed and underlined material. The brackets indicate material that has been repealed and the underscoring indicates material that has been added. This method of reproducing bills as acts in the Session Laws has been used since 1982.² Before 1982, the Revisor of Statutes did not show the bracketed material or the underlining. Thus, in order to determine the amendments made by an act, either the last version of the act in bill form had to be obtained, or the statute before its amendment and the act had to be read against each other to determine the changes. The Revisor of Statutes does put amendment notes in the Supplement, but these are terse and a researcher cannot rely on them in performing complete research.

Beginning with the 2001 Regular Session, the Legislature began a practice of showing repeal deletions through the use of both bracketing and overstrike. This was not imposed as a hard and fast requirement, and bills were passed, in some cases using only the brackets. Researchers should be aware of this fact when researching measures passed during this transition period.

Before 1970, the legislature did not always set a section out in full to amend it but only substituted words, phrases, or paragraphs. An example from the 1963 Session Laws is included in Appendix F.

¹Enacted, 1935 Haw. Sess. Laws, Act 10. Repealed 1955 Haw. Sess. Laws, Act 76.

²See Haw. Rev. Stat., §23G-16.5.

Part II. Useful Tables

There are a number of statutory and session laws tables which will make finding information easier.

A table showing conference and standing committee report numbers relating to each act was first inserted in the 1984 Session Laws.

COMMITTEE REPORTS ON MEASURES ENACTED AND VETOED

The above table sets forth the reports in relation to each act by act number. This table can save time, if the researcher is only interested in the committee reports on a bill and not in floor discussion. Using the information in this table, the researcher can go directly to a committee report instead of working through the Journal as discussed in chapter 2. Prior to 1984, this table could be found in a publication issued by the Legislative Reference Bureau called the Digest and Index of Laws Enacted which was published by the Bureau from 1963 through 1983 (see Appendix G).

The next table and one that most researchers are familiar with is the table showing the effect of acts, such as the following taken from the 1984 Session Laws and set forth below in abbreviated form.

In the Table Showing the Effect of Acts, there are a number of sections which only have the first half of a section number. For example, note section 196- added by Act 124. This number indicates that a new Section has been added to chapter 196 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes but the legislature has left it up to the Revisor of Statutes to determine its exact placement in the chapter. If one wanted to find that new section, chapter 196, being a small chapter, could be reviewed in the 1984 Supplement and the new section found fairly easily. But for additions to a large chapter this method is not the best method. Other acts add entire new chapters or parts to the Hawaii Revised Statutes without a number, leaving it up to the Revisor of Statutes to determine the number.

In order to find the number assigned to a section with an incomplete number or a chapter or part without a number, Tables of Disposition for each act and section are created by the Revisor of Statutes and found in the front of the Index volume or its Pocket Part, a special pamphlet of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, or at the back of volume 14. There are two parts to the table.

The first part of the Table of Disposition shows the disposition in the Hawaii Revised Statutes of the various sections of the Revised Laws of Hawaii 1955. If the researcher has the section number of a section in the Revised Laws of Hawaii and wants to know where it was placed in the Hawaii Revised Statutes, its placement can be found in this table. Each official ten-year compilation of the statutes contains this kind of table to assist the researcher in finding where renumbered sections were placed in the new compilation. With these tables in each compilation, a section can be tracked forward in time from the Penal Code of 1869 through to the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The table is set forth below in an abbreviated form.

The second part of this table shows the placement in the Hawaii Revised Statutes of each act and section in each act from the Session Laws of Hawaii 1955 to date. This part of the table may be used to find the disposition of new sections and chapters added to the Hawaii Revised Statutes but not numbered by the legislature. In order to find the disposition of section 196- added to the Hawaii Revised Statutes by Act 124, this table may be consulted. The table for 1984 is set forth below in abbreviated form.

By using the table it can be determined that the new section number is 196-6. In the same manner the number of a new chapter can be determined and found in the Hawaii Revised Statutes.

This table and Table 1 also contain a number of “O”s. An “O” stands for an act or a part of an act which was not codified in the Hawaii Revised Statutes. For example, Acts 2 to 6 were appropriation acts and not codified. Act 11, section 1, was a purpose section to an act and is not codified. Material in the Hawaii Revised Statutes is prima facie law and has been codified when it is placed in the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The Revisor of Statutes does not codify appropriation acts or sections or transitory material such as a section transferring personnel or functions from one office to another.

Part III. The Codification Process

In order to show how a bill becomes part of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, or is codified, an example of House Bill No. 2203-84, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 2, enacting section 196-6 is set forth in Appendix H.

The bill is first printed as Act 124 in the Session Laws of Hawaii 1984 (see Appendix I). A manuscript of the bill is prepared and the Revisor of Statutes makes necessary changes (see Appendix J). The section number is assigned to the bill and placed in brackets. Bracketed material in a Hawaii Revised Statutes section indicates to the reader that the Revisor of Statutes has made a change or assigned a section number and has not used a Revision Note to indicate the change. The Revisor of Statutes has deleted the language “the effective date of this Act” and inserted the date the governor signed the bill into law--May 18, 1984. The Revisor of Statutes has also inserted a Revision Note to indicate the change. Most bills are effective upon the approval of the governor. When the bills are being passed by the legislature, that date is unknown. When the Revisor of Statutes prepares the manuscript for the Hawaii Revised Statutes the effective date of the act is known and the Revisor of Statutes inserts the actual date in place of the phrases “upon approval” or “effective date”. An excerpt from the 1984 Supplement to the Hawaii Revised Statutes showing section 196-6 as it was codified is in Appendix K.

Chapter 6

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION PROCEEDING DOCUMENTS

Hawaii has had three Constitutional Conventions--1950, 1968, and 1978. In order to properly research the proceeding documents from those Constitutional Conventions, understanding the difference in the operation of the Constitutional Conventions and the legislature will assist the researcher to find the desired information. In the legislature, a bill is given a number and it retains that number throughout the legislative process. The bill is given hearings by standing committees in each House for which standing committee reports are issued and conference committee reports may also be issued.

Hawaii Constitutional Conventions do not operate in the foregoing manner. Each constitutional convention delegate may introduce delegate proposals to amend the Constitution. These delegate proposals are assigned to standing committees by the President of the Convention. The standing committees are created with broad subject matter areas of concern which for the most part have been based on the articles of the Hawaii Constitution.

After the standing committees have studied the delegate proposals and heard testimony, the committee drafts a committee proposal and a standing committee report indicating the delegate proposals considered, the persons giving testimony, and the reasons for the committee proposal. The committee report and the accompanying committee proposal are sent to the Convention to be given a number and to pass first reading. Upon passing first reading the committee proposal is sent to the committee of the whole for further consideration. The committee of the whole is the full Convention acting as a large committee. The rules of parliamentary procedure for committee deliberations are better suited to encourage the discussion and amendment of committee proposals than are the rules used for the Convention acting in plenary session. At this point in the process there are extensive debates of the committee proposal. Amendments are also offered and made to the committee proposal. These debates, entitled Committee of the Whole Debates, are found in Volume II of all three convention proceedings. The debates are a fertile source of the intent of the Convention and must be reviewed for that purpose.

After discussion and amendment of the committee proposal, the committee of the whole will cause a committee of the whole report to be written and amendments agreed to in committee to be made to the proposal. The committee of the whole report is then sent to the Convention for passage of the committee proposal on second reading. At this second reading point, further debate and amendments may be offered to the amended committee proposal. Again, these debates must be reviewed for Convention intent regarding committee proposals. The debates are found in Volume I of all convention proceedings.

After passage on second reading the committee proposal is sent to the Committee on Style. The Committee on Style reviews the committee proposal to ensure that the style and grammar are correct and consistent with other committee proposals being acted upon by the Convention. The Committee on Style will draft a committee report and make any necessary amendments to the committee proposal which is then sent to the floor of the Convention for passage on third and final reading. In 1968 and 1978, the committee proposals were sent to the Committee on Submission and Information so that the proper questions concerning the amendments to the Constitution could be composed for presentation to the public for vote.

The foregoing discussion hopefully gives the constitutional document researcher an understanding of the Constitutional Convention process.¹ The researcher at a minimum, must look at the standing committee report on the committee proposal, the committee of the whole report on the committee proposal, the committee of the whole debates, and the debates in the plenary session of the Convention on committee proposal as amended by the committee of the whole. In addition, the researcher may wish to review the delegate proposals which were considered by the Convention, the committee reports and amendments made by the Committee on Style, and other convention documents. Both volumes of the convention proceedings contain indexes which refer the researcher to the proper page of the proceedings containing the discussion, the committee report, delegate proposal, or amendment. Although these indexes are not definitive, they are self-explanatory and sufficient for finding the documents and debates desired. In addition, the original documents and testimony on delegate proposals are filed at the Archives and available for review, if desired.

¹For further information on the convention process, see Richard F. Kahle, Jr. (ed.), Constitutional Convention Organization Procedures, Hawaii Constitutional Convention Studies (Honolulu: 1978).

Upon motion by Senator Wilcox, seconded by Senator Farrington, the report of the Committee was adopted. House Bill No. 392, as amended, passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading tomorrow.

Senator Wilcox, for the Committee on Education, presented a report (Stand. Corn. Rep. No. 240) recommending the passage of House Bill No. 261, which was read by the Clerk, as follows:

Honolulu, T. H., April 26, 1935.

Honorable George P. Cooke,
Resident of the Senate.

Sir:

Your Committee on Education to which was referred House Bill No. 261, entitled, "An Act providing for the payment of salaries for the months of September and October to school teachers of the Kona District, County of Hawaii, who come under the Konawaena Coffee Vacation plan", begs leave to report as follows:

This bill authorizes the Department of Public Instruction to pay the salaries for the vacation months of September and October to school teachers of the Kona District, County of Hawaii, who come under the Konawaena Coffee Vacation plan.

Your Committee has consulted with the Department of Public Instruction and finds that a plan has been made for such payments. This plan meets with the approval of the Attorney General and trustees of the Employees' Retirement System.

Your Committee therefore recommends the passage of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

ELSIE H. WILCOX, Chairman;

Upon motion by Senator Wilcox, seconded by Senator Campsie, the report of the Committee was adopted. House Bill No. 261 passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading tomorrow.

~~Senator Wilcox, for the Committee on Education, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 241) recommending the passage, in amended form of House Joint Resolution No. 21, which was read by the Clerk, as follows:~~

Honolulu, T. H., April 26, 1935.

Honorable George P. Cooke,
President of the Senate.

Sir:

Your Committee on Education to which was referred House Joint Resolution No. 21, relating to "Directing the Commissioners and Superintendent of Public Instruction to give special consideration to teachers on leave of absence when filling vacancies that may occur in the public schools", begs leave to report as follows:

The purpose of this bill is to secure for former teachers of many years' service now out on leave of absence special consideration in appointment to positions. Your Committee is in sympathy with the aim of the bill, but feels that the same should be amended to apply to former employees of the Department as well as to teachers, and particularly to those who were dropped during the economy program of 1932-1933.

In accordance with these views, your Committee has prepared a redraft of the bill, which is submitted herewith. In such amended form your Committee recommends its passage.

Respectfully submitted,

ELSIE H. WILCOX, Chairman;
WM. H. HILL,
JOSEPH R. FARRINGTON,
